BENEFIT MATINEE COMING DEC. 19

Studio Theatre Will Admit Persons Who Present Can of Food

Coming Dec. 19 a benefit matinee will be held in the Studio theater, with the admission to be a can of vegetables, fruit or meat.

Planned as its part in caring for the unfortunate of the community, the theater will turn over all "admissions" to the city's welfare committee. Mrs. Mary Eckerman, head of the committee, will be at the theater to assist Garey Carr, theater manager, in receiving the donations.

The matinee will start at 2 p. m., and if the response is sufficient two shows will be presented during the afternoon, the second one starting about 4 p. m. Mr. Carr is not as yet able to announce the film program, due to his efforts to obtain the best possible headliner.

As is indicated in Mr. Carr's arrangements for the matinee, the plan is strictly a benefit for the unfortunate. He will donote the services of the theater, and the cost of the picture. He hopes, however, to fill the theater to capacity, and to that end a popular picture will be billed.

Announcement will be made within a few days concerning the featured picture.

YULE PROGRAMS IN SCHOOLS PLANNED AS HOLIDAY NEARS

Extensive Musical and Dramatic Production Scheduled at Chaffey

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE

End of Classes Friday Will Mark Beginning of Mid-Year Vacation

Christmas spirit will be evident at the schools throughout the district just prior to the beginning of the Christmas vacation.

Special programs are today being planned in many of the classrooms, and for the schools' general assembly programs.

On the Chaffey campus an elaborately planned program featuring the A Cappella choir and the dramatics classes will be presented Friday, to which the public is invited. To accommodate all the students and others, the program will be presented three times, in the high school auditorium. Beginning at 9, 10 and 11 a. m. the Yuletide program will be given, with S. Earle Blakeslee and Mrs. W. H. Kegley in charge.

At the Eighteenth street school the Christmas party will be held Friday evening, Dec. 15, at 7:15, under the sponsorship of the Parent-Teacher association.

There will be a decorated Christmas tree, and the pupils of the school, directed by the teachers, Miss Florence Armstrong and Miss Isabelle Walker, will present a Christmas play.

Dr. Irvin A. Engle, of the Methodist church, will show the picture, "The Other Wise Man," and will make an interesting talk. There also will be singing of Christmas carols.

Dr Bert Foster will speak at a Christmas assembly at the Upland junior high school at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Musical selections will be presented by the girl's glee club.

Pupils of the Fannie D. Noe school are preparing to present a Christmas program in the school auditorium Thursday evening beginning at 7:30.

Under the direction of Miss Ellen Bumstead and Mrs. Esther Kremer, pupils of the second grade will present a Christmas playlet, "Crosspatch Fairies," and the fifth grade, directed by Mrs. Anna Case, will appear in a group of tableaux and Christmas songs. The school children are selling tickets at 10 cents each or two for 15 cents. The public is invited to attend.

Large Donations For Welfare Work Much Appreciated

Mrs. Walter Welge, president of the Junior Welfare League, and her co-workers in the League, who are in charge of the Christmas baskets, were highly pleased with the very generous donations, both of much desired cash and of groceries, received last evening during the Christmas song festival.

A substantial amount of money and a large collection of groceries and other articles were turned over to the League at its headquarters in the former Klindt grocery building, and the League officials wish to very cordially express their appreciation for all the contributions.

Baskets have been placed in all the stores for the convenience of shoppers who wish to share with others a portion of the groceries they purchase for themselves. The baskets are accompanied by attractive hand-decorated posters calling attention to the need of contributions for the Christmas baskets.

Country Club Members Will Unite Thursday

If a large number of Red Hill Country club stockholders are present at the annual meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday, important matters for 1934 will be discussed.

Balloting on directors will be held from 1 to 8 p. m. Thursday, with the annual get-together to be held as the polls close. The ballots will be counted at the meeting, with plans for the future scheduled to be discussed. William Springer, president, will be in charge of the meeting.

Hundreds Join in Carol Singing As City Offers Unique Program

Upland established a new standard in its celebration of the coming Christmas season last night.

With hundreds participating in the cool, clear, wintry night, Christmas carols were beautifully sung in a series of impressive processions.

From the west, the north, the east and the south, local singing groups approached the huge Christmas tree at the intersection of Ninth street and Second avenue. Each group sang as it marched, and the rendition of the sacred music replaced the business spirit that usually prevails at "Christmas Openings."

Last night's program was the result of cooperation on the part of many local organizations, and the result of the leadership of local business people. The fact that the community singing of Christmas carols was offered by the merchants' group at this season of the vear appealed to many as all the more impressive.

With the singers and the general public assembled in the intersection and on the streets, Dr. Bert Foster, rector of St. Mark's church, pronounced the invocation, impressive in its wording and presentation.

Archie L. Moore, general musical director for the evening, then led the combined group, numbering several hundred, in the singing of carols. Mayor P. H. McQuillen responded in commendatory terms for the manner in which the various organizations had cooperated in relieving the stress of the unfortunate.

In testimony of the general city's attitude toward its unfortunate, many donations were placed on the trucks, parked at the intersection. The city's welfare commission will distribute the goods.

Fred Wilding led a group of trumpeters in a signal to the various groups to begin its march toward the principal intersection. First the trumpeters beckoned to the group, stationed a block away at the west to begin its musical trek. With Boy Scouts leading the way with flaming torches, the singers approached. The northern group was then the object of the trumpeters. Each group was led to the central group by Boy Scouts and their torches.

Included in the groups were the Presbyterian crurch choir and young people, the Campfire girls, the Upland Woman's club, Business and Professional Woman's club, William Seguin's chorus, the Methodist church choir and other Methodist singers, the Brownies, the Nazarene church, Upland junior high school, American Legion auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Brethren in Christ, Mennonite church. Episcopal church and the Rebekah lodge.

The business committee in charge of the entire program were Miss Lillian Harnish, chairman, and originator of the idea, Glenn M. Atwood, Kenneth Heinauer, Jack Engel, Mrs. W. J. McCloskey, J. H. Siegrist and Charles Pooler.

SHOW BOAT EVENT IS CHAFFEY HIT

Extravaganza Popular Program Presented by Students Friday

Chaffey's show boat arrived in spectacular fashion Friday night. Two hours later it departed with the well wishes of a capacity audience in the high school auditorium.

When Captain Frank Watkins appeared on the scene, Chaffey's second annual winter extravaganza got under way in a manner that fulfilled expectations of the most critical. Scene after scene and stunt after stunt appeared to give the student performance a variety that would be expected of a professional troupe.

It was a student program throughout, from the standpoint of origination and presentation, but the general feeling gleaned from the audience was one of marvel at the ability of the student singers, actors, dancers and entertainer..

Miss Charlotte Browning of Upland was probably the youngest person on the stage, her acrobatic dancing being sponsored by the Upland junior high school, but the reception the audience gave her was the most enthusiastic during the evening.

Billed as the "Queen of the Circus," Miss Browning, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Browning, appeared in an acrobatic dance number that included gyrations of unusual skill and activity.

Approximately 200 students united to produce the extravaganza, with faculty members assisting as directors. Band music was offered under the leadership of Fred Wilding.

CITRUS WINNING AS OTHER FRUITS ARE LOSING IN APPEAL

SALES DROP SLIGHTLY

Advertising and Promotion Put Fruit in Homes Daily, He Declares

Citrus growers' investment in advertising during the years of plenty have resulted in a dependable consumer demand for citrus products during the years of retrenchment, members of the Mountain View Fruit Growers association were assured at their annual meeting Saturday.

J. O. Cook Jr., an assistant to the manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, was the speaker, and the message he brought to the Mt. View growers was one of optimism and general reassurance

The sales peak in the citrus industry came in 1929, he said. During this year the sales have totaled 90 per cent of the 1929 volume, he cited, pointing out that the demand for citrus products had been created through extensive advertising and sales promotion. Citrus fruit has taken its place in the regular diet of millions, while other fruits are purchased only for the sake of adding variety, Mr. Cook declared.

Ahead is new competition in tomato and pineapple juices, he pointed out in citing a need for continued energetic selling.

Ahead is also the assurance of better cooperation, nationally, due to the proposed marketing agreement. This agreement, when signed, will be mandatory on all shippers to observe the market needs. The national marketing agreement, in general, will bring into realization national cooperation as has been experienced on a state-wide scope in California in recent months, Mr. Cook said.

Business meeting of the association was held in the packing house Saturday morning, with a turkey dinner served in the basement of the Presbyterian church Saturday noon. Following the meeting Mr. Cook spoke, being introduced by Harry B. Harlow, manager of the local office of the Exchange.

Speakers Tell of Japan and Prison

Rev. Urono, a native of Japan, discussed the Japanese alphabet and the Japanese system of education, as one of the speakers before Beulah college students last week.

Rev. Lester Hostetler, pastor of the Mennonite church here, related his interesting experiences in visiting the Ohio state penitentiary. The warden of the institution said all the inmates thought themselves into the pen and they exit by the same process, according to the speaker. Rev. Hostetler concluded his message by asserting "as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.",

People need to be more vitally religious, was the dominant thought and expression of Rev. Esley Mason, Glendale, Ariz. Rev. Mason said that this would alleviate much that is out of joint in the country today.

The Lyceum and lecture course committee of the college is presening its second number Dec. 15 at 7:45 p. m. with Dr. Fred James Shields as the lecturer. He has formerly served as research assistant in the psycho-educational clinic at Harvard university. At present he is head of the department of education at Pasadena college. Dr. Shields is to advocate "A Christian's Theory of Education." The college is inviting everyone.

Albert Dark Wins Guessing Contest

Albert Dark, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Dark of San Antonio canyon, is apparently a good guesser. A guessing contest was recently held by John Palmer, local sporting goods merchant, with youths guessing the number of bolts in a jar from 500 to 5000.

Young Dark guessed 796 bolts. The actual number in the container was 800. As a prize a flashlight was presented to the youth.

Mrs. Hugh Lamphear Named Noble Grand of Rebekah Lodge

Mrs. Hugh Lamphear will serve Silver Link Rebekah lodge as noble grand during the ensuing year, she having been elevated to that office at the annual election held Friday night in the I. O. O. F. hall. She will succeed Mrs. J. F. Haddow, who held that office during the past year.

Others who will take office with Mrs. Lamphear in January, are Miss Ruth Crane, vice-grand: Mrs. Harry Sargent, recording secretary; Miss Edna Owens, financial secretary, and Mrs. A. H. Stull, treasurer. The appointive officers will be named later.

Friendship night was observed at this meeting, with all lodges in the district being represented and members from each lodge participated in the ritualistic ceremony in which a class of five candidates was initiated.

Fifty members of the Pomona lodge were in attendance, also 18 from Chino, 18 from Ontario, 15 from Claremont, one each from lodges in Arizona, Nebraska, Clements and Riverside, and 35 members of the Upland lodge.

At the close of the lodge meeting the large company repaired to the dining hall, where Christmas decorations were in evidence, and a merry social hour was enjoyed with refreshments being served.

MANY WILL ATTEND CHRISTMAS DANCE

Welfare Event Expected To Draw Capacity Crowd at Country Club

A capacity attendance at the Christmas basket dance to be given Saturday evening in Red Hill Country club, was indicated today by reports of the splendid sale of tickets.

Plans practically were completed for the dance, the major welfare project of the Christmas season, during a meeting held Friday afternoon by the Junior Welfare League, the sponsoring organization, of which Mrs. Walter Welge is president.

A report of final preparations was made at the meeting by Mrs. Charles J. Holmes, chairman of the ways and means committee, and Mrs. Nelson Gray, chairman of decorations, outlined her plans for decorating the rooms of the Country clubhouse.

Miss Mary Norton, treasurer for the League, made the welcome report on the sale of tickets. The informal dance is planned as the outstanding event of the winter.

The meeting was held in the League headquarters in the building formerly occupied by the Klindt grocery, and plans were made to keep the headquarters open from 10 to 12 and from 2 to 4 o'clock every day during the Christmas season, members of the League agreeing to serve and designating the days on which they would take charge.

All donations for Christmas distribution are to be concentrated in this building, and supplies of staple groceries, fruits and canned goods and toys will be welcomed.

The greatest need is for cash, which can be used in making wholesale purchases; but gifts of any kind will be received gladly. Already many donations of cash and articles have been made, the organizations contributing thus far being the Mennonite church, the Upland Woman's club, the Neighborhood, the Rotary club and the Elks lodge.

Many used toys are being asked for. These will be repaired and painted by Paul Schowalter's Boy Scout troops.

The Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts and Sunday school classes are busy making candy and Christmas stockings to go into the Christmas baskets.

During the meeting Friday Mrs. Thelma Kirk told of securing the donation of a Chevrolet truck by the Allan Couch agency to be used in the Christmas song festival Monday night. The truck was decorated by Robert Stone's Boy Scout troop.

Mrs. Georgia Winters of Kansas City has arrived in Upland and is the guest of her niece, Mrs. Francis Garner, school nurse. Mrs. Winters plans to make an extended visit here

Training Director Speaker at Rotary Club Meeting Today

Upland Rotarians and their guests were given an insight today into the manner in which employes of large mercantile establishments are trained and developed in their positions and numerous jobs. The speaker was Miss Judy Bruce of Claremont, who has held the position of training director of a number of large stores in the east. As Miss Bruce stated her work in a few words, the work of a training director is to see that the right person is in the right job. The activities of a training director covers every department of the establishment, and she told very interestingly of the night schools conducted for employes, the different classes and branches of teaching making a veritable university.

Miss Bruce told in a most entertaining way of the various contacts one makes with executives, heads of departments, clerks, delivery men and others connected with the large institutions; and it was an education to her hearers to learn of the intricate and efficient manner in which affairs of big business are handled

What Next!

There is much wonder and discussion as to if, or how and when the government will be able to "let go" of its public works program. The following discussion of the situation is from the La Mesa Scout and is indeed interesting:

"What's going to happen after the federal government has completed the job of spending something like three and a third billion dollars on public works by means of the CWA and kindred organizations? There is no question as to the benefits of the system while the plan is being carried out. Big projects as well as innumerable small ones in practically every city and village are getting federal money, laborers are being paid wages and 'things' generally are better.

"But all this can last only two or three months under present arrangements. Practically all the little improvements will have been completed by next March and the workmen will again be out of employment. What then?

"There will be all kinds of answers, but one result is practically certain. The government can't quit, go entirely out of the employment business and simply tell all these workmen who have been helped, if not saved from actual starvation, to hereafter shift for themselves. Having thus far depended more than before upon the government for aid, they will be less capable of shifting for themselves than before. Hence the government will perforce be compelled to stay on the job and find other employment for them. Instead of being employed only on public projects, they will be employed in projects that are now and have been private projects. The government will enter upon a system of planned industry in which the necessary work of the world will be done largely by these government employes and we shall have begun a sort of socialized industry in this country.

"Perhaps this prediction may be laughed at by those who believe in things as they are. But the system has worked that way thus far. The C. C. C. camps were established for six months only, but they were continued for another six months, and at the end of that period they will be continued for another six months or longer. The men employed in these public projects far outnumber those employed in the camps. The government found it couldn't desert the C. C. C. boys and send them home to shift for themselves. It will find that it can't forsake those employed on these public projects and send them home to shift for themselves. It will find that, having started something, it can't quit. There is no stopping place. It must keep on in the direction it is going, although no one can now predict where it will end.

"Thoughtful people therefore believe that this is only the beginning of an era of a socialized industry in which the profit motive will no longer control and the necessary work of the world will be done in an orderly manner and for the benefit of all; when there will be recognized the principle that all industry shall be conducted to supply human needs and not for profit and there will no longer be any very rich or very poor.

"Such a condition of society has been the dream of idealists and reformers ever since the morning stars sang together and it is entirely within the powers of people now living to bring it about. Why isn't the prediction that the realization of the dream is now begun the most reasonable answer to the question propounded?"

Liquor Creed for Young Men

The return of licensed liquor brings a critical situation for the youth of America. Booze is now obtainable at intervals of a few blocks—and in many instances several times within a block. It's a time when youth should exercise good judgment, as the temptations to form the drink habit will be numerous—that is the business of the liquor traffic. And this irregardless of what drink means to the health of the youth. Sober thinking is necessary to form the proper decision—and sober living is essential to healthful old age for those who are now in their youth.

A liquor "creed" recently appeared in weekly publications of New York City Y. M. C. A. branches, the purpose of this "creed" being to encourage young men to "think through" the problem of achieving temperance and also suggesting, among other things, that the drinker pause and "give attention to the relation of liquor to economics in this technological age." The creed consists of the following ten paragraphs:

We will under no circumstances patronize the bootleg industry nor violate any liquor control laws under which we now have increased personal liberty.

We will avoid making ourselves a nuisance to our friends or to the public by drunkenness.

We will refrain from encouraging young women to drink.

We will disapprove the practice of treating or other methods of forming a liquor habit.

We will investigate the experience of other nations in dealing with the liquor problem and acquaint ourselves with the conclusions of our best United States students on this subject.

We will consult the best authorities as to their opinions about the effects of alcohol on the human system, physically and mentally.

We will weigh the advantages of spending money for intoxicants as contrasted with other possibilities.

We will study the ethical, moral and social implications of the new status of intoxicants, also give attention to the relation of liquor to economics in a technological age.

We will undertake intelligently to formulate a personal philosophy and program of true temperance.

Finally, we will undertake honestly to put our personal philosophy and program into practice.

Driving down past the junior college and high school in the mornings we observe that the youths going to school drive much faster than the men going to work in their cars and trucks—and we don't thing it's because the youth are more anxious to get to school either.

One very good reason there will not be a saloon on every corner is because there is already a filling station on most of the corners already. However, there is plenty of room for saloons between the filling stations—you can already find plenty of them there.

See where a surgeon is predicting a superior race of men on earth in a hundred years. They're going to need a superior race to pay all the debts our inferior race of today is contracting.

The dollar is the lowest today it has been in seventeen years, so we read. And yet it is harder to get than at any other time during that period.

Although no date for the wedding was announced, it is known the event will occur in the early spring.

Miss Marshall, a charming and accomplished young woman, is a graduate of Chaffey, and she also attended the University of California at Los Angeles, where she affiliated with the Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Mr. Franzen, who is a member of one of Riverside's oldest and most prominent families, is a graduate of the University of Southern California and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He is now in business in Los Angeles, being with Bullocks Wilshire.

Members of Ben Hur Lodge Entertained at NRA Supper

The home of Judge and Mrs. J. F. Hamilton, 627 East D street, Ontario, was the scene recently of the first "NRA" supper held in this district, the hostesses being Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Earl Riggs, who entertained members of court No.34, Ben Hur lodge.

Choice chrysanthemums were used in the floral decorations of the dining room, and the supper was served at attractively appointed tables.

The most unique feature of the event was the cleverly worded menu, each item of which was named with three words, the first letters of which were N R A. The menu and its translation was: Nice refreshing assortment, nutritive roast amalgamation, nifty relish appetizers, numerous reminder assembled, not real apples, new round attractions and nice reviving amber, which, interpreted, means; fruit cocktail, creamed veal, pickles, vegetable salad, cheese balls, cup cakes and cookies, and coffee.

Much speculation and a great deal of merriment was afforded the guests as they attempted to guess the identity of the dishes before each course was served by Mrs. Dorothy Kent and Miss Geraldine Riggs, daughters of the hostesses, dressed in dainty white caps and aprons.

The remainder of the evening was spent socially, and Mrs. Kent and Mrs. Clarence Nelson entertained with several musical numbers.

Mrs. Paul Will Open Home to Members Welfare League

In appreciation of the very splendid work being done by the Junior Welfare League in preparation for the Christmas welfare work, Mrs. Earl W. Paul will entertain the League members at luncheon Wednesday at her home on Euclid avenue.

A special guest at the luncheon will be Mrs Ada Laughlin of Los Angeles, founder of the Assistants League of that city, an organization very similar to the Junior Welfare League. Mrs Laughlin will address the guests telling them something of the work of the Los Angeles organization.

The members of the Junior Welfare League have practically completed arrangements for the Christmas basket dance they are giving at Red Hill Country club on the evening of Saturday, Dec. 16, and they are enthusiastic over the prospects for a capacity attendance and a delightful evening.

Frances Paul Girls Enjoy Party at Bovee Home

Meeting at the home of Mrs. H. W. Bovee, 565 Mountain avenue, members of the Francis Paul Girls class of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a very interesting session on a recent even-

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. G. Vernon Sleuman, some time was devoted to planning for the Christmas welfare work, which will include several individual projects, besides the filling of Christmas baskets.

Mrs. Howard Loucks of La Verne favored the group with a beautiful song, her accompanist being Loren Adair of Pomona.

The program speaker was Mrs. Leon Durham, president of the Upland Motion Picture council, who discussed the influence of motion pictures upon the youth of the country.

Declaring that the motion picture is the greatest medium of the day for contacting and influencing the people of the entire world, adults as well as children, Mrs. Durham recognized the vast possibilities of the screen for proper and beneficial education and wholesome entertainment.

She also pointed out the deficiencies and inferiorities that are making many of the present-day pictures a decidedly detrimental influence, especially for children. Mrs. Durham quoted at length from the book, "Our Movie-Made Children," put out by the Payne Foundation after an exhaustive research of four years; and she earnestly urged that parents not only select the best type of pictures for the children to see, but that they also patronize the good pictures themselves. The producers and exhibitors cannot supply good pictures, she said, unless the good pictures are given greater patronage than the inferior and objectionable ones.

A social hour followed the program, and delectable refreshments were served by Mrs. eBove and her assisting hotesss Bovee and her assisting hostesses. Besides Mrs. Bovee the committee included Mrs. Arthur Littlejohns, Mrs. A. C. Beattie, Mrs. W. J. Parsons, Mrs. C. W. Hawks, Mrs. Chas. V. Benson, Mrs. Milton W. Davenport and Mrs. Archie L. Moore.

Mrs. Brooks Is Honor Guest at Birthday Family Reunion

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Goodban, 572 East Arrow highway, was the scene of a happy event Sunday, when four daughters, their families and other relatives, united in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. S. J. Brooks.

Several bowls and baskets of choice flowers, gifts from relatives and friends, were used in the house decorations.

At the noon hour a most delicious turkey dinner, for which Mrs. Goodban was chief chef, was enjoyed, the happy climax coming with the serving of the dessert course when a handsome birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Maude Goyen of San Bernardino as a surprise for her mother, was brought in by a small grandson, Dale Goodban, and presented to Mrs. Brooks, who was called upon to extinguish the glowing flames of the many tiny pink candles.

After the dinner Mrs. Brooks was presented with a number of lovely gifts, and later the entire family group gathered on the lawn where several pictures were made by a grandson, Elliott Bowman, who is a talented photographer. The remainder of the day was spent in the pleasant visiting always so much enjoyed by happy family groups.

One of the pleasant features of the day was the surprise appearance of Mrs. Brook's grandnephew, Royce Hagler, of Cleburne, Texas, who arrived in the morning bringing word from the several relatives in that state. Only a few days before Mrs. Brooks' sister, Mrs. George Purser and her daughter-in-law, Mrs Harold Purser, had arrived unexpectedly from San Jose, their presence also adding to the pleasure of the family gathering.

Enjoying the very happy birthday celebration and family reunion were Mrs. Brooks and her two sisters, Mrs. Purser of San Jose and Mrs. Dora Starnes of Ontario; the four daughters, Mrs. Maude Goyen of San Bernardino, Mrs. James E. Goodban, Mrs. L. O. Bowman and Mrs. D. M. Thrash; the sons-in-laws, Jas E Goodban, L. O. Bowman and D. M. Mrs. Settle Honored at Eastern Star Meeting

Concluding a year of most efficient service, Mrs. Thos. H. Settle, more familiarly known to her friends and Star associates as Nelie Settle, presided for the last time as worthy matron of Upland chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, when the regular chapter meeting was held last evening in the lodge rooms.

Mrs. Settle is to be succeeded by Mrs. Isabelle Wisely, who, with her staff of assisting officers will be installed in the beautiful chapter ceremony Wednesday night.

During the chapter meeting last night, the resignation of Walter W. Horak recently elected patron, was submitted, and a new patron, E. C. Rosenberger, was elected.

At the conclusion of the chapter meeting a lovely surprise awaited Mrs. Settle, the happy conspirators being the officers who have served with her. With Mrs. Earl Thomas making the presentation, a beautiful "shower" bouquet of pink snapdragons and chrysanthemums was given to Mrs. Settle. The bouquet was tied with long streamers of green ribbon in which were knotted many tiny parcels wrapped in pink tissue, these proving to be dainty handkerchiefs. Other lovely gifts were presented by the wife of the retiring patron, Mrs. C. O. Deverts, and the worthy matrons who came from neighboring chapters.

As a fitting close for the pretty ceremony, Mrs. Dorothy Kent sang Carrie Jacob Bond's "End of a Perfect Day," parapharsing slightly to "End of a Perfect Year."

When the meeting adjourned Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O. Deverts extended an invitation to a matrons and patrons party at their home on Second avenue, the husbands and wives of the officials also being guests.

MISS OPAL COTTON WILL APPEAR HERE

Talented Dramatist in Cast of Play Planned As Choir Benefit

Miss Opal Cotton, who will be remembered here for her beautiful performance as Rebekah in "The Story of Isaac and Rebekah," will appear in the leading feminine roles of the two dramas to be presented at the Cathedral of the Foothills on Dec. 15. by the Testament Players as a benefit for the choir of the Methodist church.

Miss Cotton recently completed an engagement at the Hollywood Play House in "The Sport of Kings," her latest performance being at the Gateway Theater in "The Proof of the Pudding." She is now playing in Hollywood and vicinity with the Testament Players.

Miss Cotton's pictorial beauty, together with her charm and grace, has completely won her many audiences. A Hollywood paper stated: "Opal Cotton's interpretation was one of great beauty, and her performance was at all times colorful and deeply effective."

This recognized gift of portrayal, enhanced with rich costuming and effective lights and setting, establishes a finished performance by this actress in the Biblical drama, "The Stillness of the Night."

In the modern drama "Building," Miss Cotton is found a very human and modern young woman, with a performance of sincere purpose, hightened with moments of delicate and enchanting gayiety and laughter.

Playing opposite Miss Cotton will be Theron Orr, who is also author and producer. In the drama, "The Stillness of the Night," Mr. Orr is given a chance to rise to the heights of dramatic emotion. A Hollywood paper states: "Mr. Orr displayed great dramatic ability. He immediately established the atmosphere of the play, which was maintained throughout."

In the modern drama, "Building," Mr. Orr appears as a young architect. It will be interesting to watch the personality of this modern young man in contrast to the classical tone of first drama in which he also plays. The language and tempo of this play is that of 1933. Yet the purpose of man today and the hope for our tomorrow is the same as the hopes and purposes of those who lived yesterday—and so also shall the "light upon the heavens guide those who shall live in the tomorrow."

Christmas Program Given

The Christmas story was the beautifully expressed theme of the program presented Wednesday afternoon by the Cucamonga Central Parent-Teacher association, when the December meeting was held in the school auditorium. A very large improvised cathedral window in colors was placed at the back of the stage. The window was lighted from the rear, bringing into relief the figures of the Madonna and the Christ Child, and cathedral candelibra were placed on each side ing.

In this setting the girls glee club of the school, costumed as angels, sang Christmas carols.

The association president, Mrs. M. L. Bonillas, conducted the meeting during which plans were made to form a study circle for the purpose of attending the course of lectures on parental education to be delivered in Chaffey high school by Mrs. C. F. Fietz of Fontana, beginning early in January.

A plea was made by Mrs. Paul Adams for contributions of used toys to be repaired by the Cucamonga and Alta Loma Girl Scouts for welfare distribution as Christmas gifts.

The program speaker was Mrs. Emma Robinson of Ontario, who discussed the spiritual qualities most essential to be developed in children's characters. Her address was both interesting and beneficial.

Miss Frances Loney, principal of the school, told of plans for the Christmas program to be held at a general assembly at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of Friday, Dec. 15. The P.-T. A. will provide a treat for the children at that time.

Club Hears Mrs. Bunnell

A group of 40 women of the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club, heard an impressive talk on world and international events by Mrs. George H. Bunnell of Redlands, when they gathered Thursday afternoon for their regular club meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray R. Ford on Archibald avenue. Mrs. Ford was assisted by Mrs. O. W. Freeman.

Speaking on the subject, "The Youth Movement in the World," Mrs. Bunnell, who is international interests chairman for the California Federation of Women's clubs, pointed out that the entire world is in a state of definite change and that the new conditions must be considered in the guidance of the youth of the world.

Mrs. Bunnell explained particularly the decided differences in the backgrounds upon which are based the training of youth in Russia, Germany and Italy. She especially urged the vital necessity for all persons to keep the psychology of war out of their minds and to concentrate only on world peace.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. E. S. Bishop, plans were made for the Christmas baskets for the Monte Vista home, the committee being Mrs. L. R. Thomas, Mrs. Ray Ford and Mrs. Robert Nesbit.

Plans also were made for the Christmas party to be held in the Central school auditorium on Thursday, Dec. 21.

A delightful musical program was given by Marjorie Cady and Crystal Relph, pianists, and the usual social hour was enjoyed.

Christmas Plans Made

Plans for the Christmas program at the Cucamonga Community church were discussed Friday night by members of the Adult Bible class and the Sunday school board during the meeting of the class held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Beekman on East Base Line.

Although details have not yet been completed, preparations are being made to have a Christmas tree and program at the church on the evening of Friday, Dec. 22.

The class president, Mrs. D. K. Burnham, conducted a business meeting, and later in the evening a social hour was enjoyed.

Citrus Directors Organize

Directors of the Cucamonga Citrus association, returned to office at the recent annual meeting of the members of the association, held their organization meeting Thursday, re-electing George A. Klusman, president; William Cooper, vice-president, and Paul Adams, secretary and manager. Vincent G. Lucas was selected to serve as the representative in the Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange. Other directors are E. R. Hively, Carter E. Putnam, Arnold P. Weber and Joseph Vizio.

Missionary Meeting Planned

The Woman's Missionary society of the Cucamonga Community church will hold an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs W. H. Rupp in Alta Loma, Wednesday. A dinner will be served at noon, the proceeds to go to the pastor.

The program, with the president, Mrs. Leslie Foster presiding, will include a devotional talk by Mrs. J. G. Stoebe, and a book review by Mrs. Arthur Capen.

The Home Missionary society has won the honor of being awarded the $2 prize offered by the district organization for a completely paid-up membership before December.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hatch of Hermosa avenue spent Thursday in Baldwin Park visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stine and family.

Mrs. Chas. B. Hansen of 256 West Foothill boulevard, is spending this week in San Diego with her sister, Mrs. V. M. Jones. Mr. Hansen and their daughter, Miss Lucille Hansen, will motor to the southern city this week-end to bring her home.

Miss Dorothy Doak of Los Angeles is the houseguest this week of Miss Margaret Pyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pyle, East Base Line avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen McLaughlin of San Bernardino road, went to Los Angeles today for a combined business and pleasure trip.

Presbyterian Women In All-Day Session Hear Several Talks

Three interesting talks on missions featured the meeting Thursday morning of the Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church, when the regular session was held at 10:30.

Mrs. D. H. Ward, president of the society, conducted the business session, and Mrs. William Trunkfield led a devotional service.

An interesting story of the life of a girl in Persia was told by Mrs. J. W. Bryden. Mrs. R. C. Stone discussed work done among the Mormons, and Mrs. S. G. Moore read an interesting paper on Syria.

By way of observing Christmas, all present joined in singing Christmas songs.

Mrs. Durham Speaks

Meeting at 1:30 p. m., the Ladies Aid society, with Mrs. Elizabeth Moore presiding, heard several reports and made plans for the serving of the Mountain View Fruit association dinner Saturday. Mrs. R. C. Norton was named chairman of the dinner committee, and Mrs. H. S. Bailey will be in charge of the dining room.

The feature of the meeting was a talk by Mrs. Leon Durham, in which she gave many interesting statistics concerning the operation of the motion picture industry, and also discussed the influence of motion pictures upon the children and young people of the nation.

Revealing the results of years of investigation, Mrs. Durham told of the detrimental influence upon youthful minds exerted by the many gangster, sex and liquor drinking pictures, and stressed the urgent need of parents becoming aroused to the situation and taking steps to secure better pictures.

WARNING
to EXPECTANT MOTHERS
If you have ever been a patient in any hospital, you are probably familiar with the advantages of a liquid laxative.
All doctors know the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be controlled.
The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have now learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without discomfort at the time, or after. Dr. Caldwell's long experience with mothers and babies, and his remarkable record of nearly three thousand births without the loss of one mother or child, should give anybody complete confidence in any prescription which he wrote!
But most important of all, a gentle liquid laxative does not cause bowel strain to the most delicate system, and this is of the utmost importance to expectant mothers and to every child.
Expectant mothers are urged to try gentle regulation of bowels with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a delightful tasting laxative of delightful action, made of fresh herbs, pure pepsin and active senna. Not a single mineral drug to be absorbed by the system, or irritate the kidneys.
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved preparation and kept ready for use by all druggists.
